Message from Head Teacher

Dear Parents/Carers,

I am sure that by now most of you would have realised that we had an Ofsted inspection yesterday. I have to wait for the official report to be published, before I am allowed to share the outcomes of the inspection with you. The report should be available within the next three weeks.

I would like you to know that, as expected, the children behaved brilliantly, showing off their magnificent manners and academic skills. The inspector was very impressed.

I would also like to add that the staff and I are deeply grateful for your positive comments on the Parent View. The inspector told us that he had not seen such consistently good feedback for a long time, so thank you for your support. Now, we look forward to the publishing of the final report.

Ania Vaughan Head Teacher

Children in Playground

We have several children that are arriving in school early. Please note that children should not be in school before 8.30am. This is particularly for our lone walkers, some of whom are arriving at 8.10am. At this time of day they should not be on school grounds and school cannot be responsible for their safety at that time.

Waving through the School Gates

Please remember if you are passing school during our school day, please do not stop and wave to the children, this causes lots of disruption in the playground and can cause upset for some of the children.

Stop bullying for happiness around the world

The bullying will NOT = happiness

Obviously bullying is not right

Put bullying out of range

Bullying is not really nice

Under bullying in your heart is love

Lets make bullying stop

Lots of people don't like bully's

You know bullying is wrong

In bully's hearts somewhere there is love

Naughty = bullying, bullying = sadness

Good = no bully's (Yay!)

Stop Bullying

Stopping others having fun,

That is a big aggression,

Otherwise, you'll soon be on the run,

Please don't use negative expression.

But if you change, you could shine,

Unless you waste all of your time,

Lets deal with it,

Learn the differences, between good and bad,

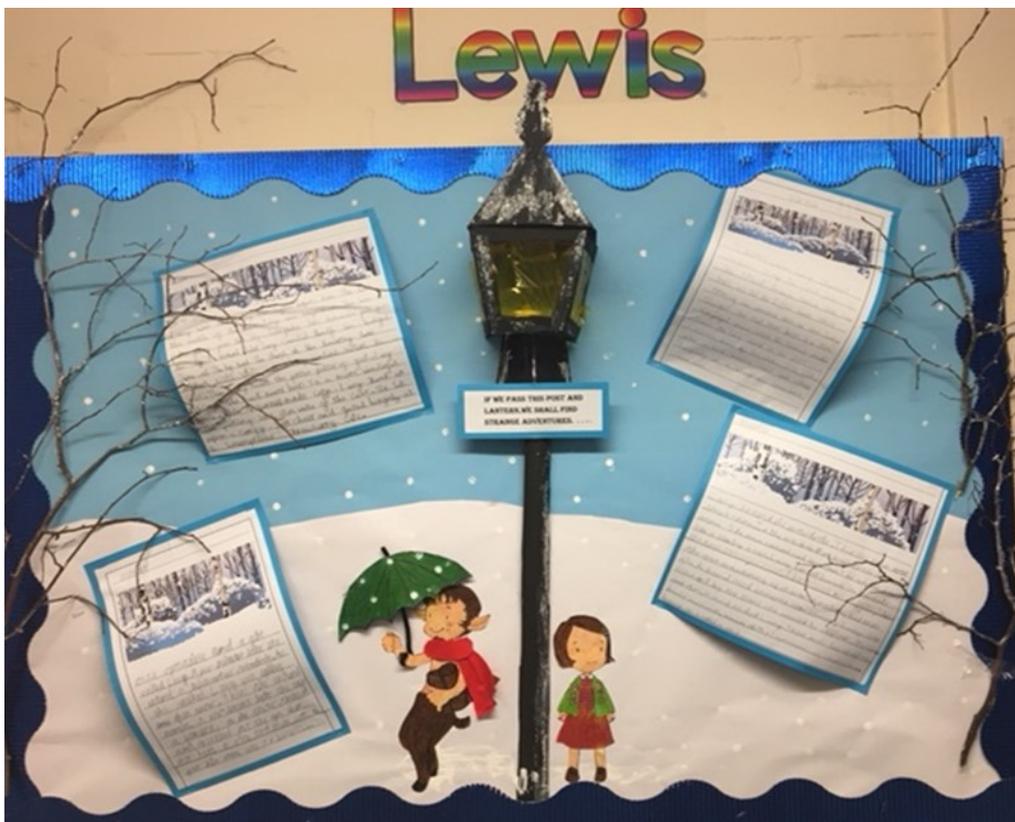

You shouldn't hit,

In your brain you are sad,

Never use it, otherwise it will be your fate,

Good Behaviour is great!

This week we have also been working on and changed our corridor displays, which reflect the authors that our classrooms are named after.

Lewis Class, picked The Chronicles of Narnia, The Lion The Witch and The Wardrobe, by CS Lewis.

"We have read the book and watched the film. It is a very good story. We had lots of fun making the display and it looks very wintery, showing two of my favourite characters in the book".
